DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Applicant is only claiming a single means, i.e. an ionization chamber, and not a combination of elements.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mantkowski (966).

Mantkowski (966) discloses a rocket engine having a tubular combustion chamber (28) that can be made of a substrate with a surface layer forming the chamber therein. Said substrate (10) can be of a super alloy such as Inconel 625, as well as, the layer (18) (col.4, lines 19-23 and col.5, lines 15-18).

It is obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that the combustion chamber in a rocket engine would produce a certain amount of ions from the ignition of the gas therein; and therefore said rocket engine can broadly be considered an ion source with a combustion chamber that also can broadly be considered an ionization chamber. Furthermore, it is obvious that the thickness of said super alloy layer can be determined by anyone of ordinary skill in the art, depending upon the intended purpose of said ion source.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 12 is allowed.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Huhn, Alsawa, Shaffer, Straemke, Danby, and Gibbs have been cited to show a variety of devices that use a super alloy in their components and/or chambers.
